DETAILED ACTION

Defective Appeal Under 37 CFR 41.37

In accordance to Rules of Practice Before the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences (effective September 13, 2004), the appeal brief must contain the following items (§ 41.37(c)):

Real party in interest (similar to former § 1.192). Includes a statement identifying by name the real party in interest even if the party named in the caption of the brief is the real party in interest.

Related appeals and interferences (similar to former §1.192).

Status of claims (similar to former § 1.192). Includes a statement of the status of any amendments filed subsequent to final rejection.

Status of amendments (same as former § 1.192).

Summary of claimed subject matter (replacing "summary of invention"). Includes a concise explanation of the subject matter defined in each of the independent claims involved in the appeal; must refer to the specification by page and line number, and to the drawing, if any, by reference characters. For each independent claim involved in the appeal and for each dependent claim argued separately, the structure, material, or acts described in the specification as corresponding to each claimed function must be set forth with reference to the specification by page and line number, and to the drawing, if any, by reference characters.

The appeal brief filed by the Applicant on 11/24/2004 fails to provide:

A real party in interest;

Related appeals and interferences;

Status of claims;

Status of amendments; and

Summary of claimed subject matter.

Therefore, the applicant's appeal brief is considered to be defective.

Applicant is given one month to reply to this Notice of Defective Appeal Brief.
Extensions of time may be obtained under 37 CFR 1.136(a).
